LOOK UP.

Look up! the world is wide. On land and sea.
On ship or shore, there is no rust, no rest;
A heart throbs outward from each human breast.
And moves it onward to its destiny.
What if its hidden doom must end in death?
Why, meet it bravely, with the honest thought
Of no good deed undone, no ruin wrought,
To kill the hope that soothes a dying breast.
He who would soar from darkness into light,
And, like Icarus, mount on waxen wings,
Will never reach and touch the golden springs
That open the gates which close upon the night.
Who rises, lifting others up with him.
Is strong indeed. Within his call or reach
Are hands that aid him—hearts that help him teach.
What he has learned himself, and taught to them.
We build our thoughts like mountains to the clouds,
The mystery of our being still unsolved,
Have that we know our lives are not evolved
For the sole end of filling empty shrouds.

A grand Thanksgiving ball will be given next Wednesday evening, the 24th inst., in the opera house.

The Y. M. C. A. are holding prayer meetings every evening this week in College Avenue church.

The young ladies of the Christian church will give a paper carnival and art exhibit on the 10th of December.

A detective could win laurels by ascertaining just who are the stockholders in a certain bass fiddle in this city.

Gilmore has just given a monster festival of a weeks duration at Syracuse, New York, which was very successful.

The bus drivers reaped a harvest Tuesday evening, hauling the attendants of the Livermore lecture to and from their homes.

The weather prophets predict a very bilious "spell" of weather beginning about the 5th of December continuing until the 14th.

The new improvements on North College Avenue loom up largely. There are room for more of the same kind of work all around us.

The accommodation train on the Monon is quite an improvement. It leaves here going south at 6:10 a. m. and returns from Louisville at 9:51 p. m.

RAMBLER.

I am glad to see my esteemed collaborer of the Daily News hammering away at the idea of some improvements on the court house square. There is certainly text enough in the topic for an unlimited number of newspaper sermons. As at present kept the place is a positive nuisance and eyesore, and, with the permission of the man of the Banner, the city government should bring action against the Commissioners for maintaining a nuisance within the limits. Rambler, however, has a plan by which he proposes, in the spring, to do away with the old court house, out house, woodpile, rubbish, salt barrels and all. The plan will be devulged in due season.

Our amusement managers promise us at least two exceptional entertainments this winter, Gilmore's band, and the lecture of Stanley the African explorer. Each of these attractions entail an unusually large expense, and it is to be hoped that the lecture goes and music lovers of the community will appreciate the situation and turn out accordingly.

College Avenue M. E. church needs another infusion of new life and energy in its choir. The pulpit is unexceptionably filled, Dr. Parkhurst being, in the public esteem, one of most eloquent, earnest and practical preachers that has ever led the flock; but the singing suffers in comparison with what it was a few months since. Can't something be done?

There was, I learn, a somewhat surprised audience in Meharry hall on Tuesday evening—the occasion of the Livermore entertainment. The lecturer had been advertised to speak of the "Life and Labors of John B. Gough," and with the expectations of her hearers fixed on Gough she began, without notice or warning of any kind, to deliver her lecture on Wendell Phillips. Many were unable to straighten things out for a time, and when they did succeed in grasping the situation they were too far behind to catch up. There is a gross error somewhere on the part of some one, as I see the same subject announced elsewhere, while the lady claims that her lecture on Gough will not be ready until sometime in December. Mrs. L. or her Bureau should endeavor to catch up with her agent, and get both to running on the same track.

The papers have had more or less to say about the "dead beat" in politics, and have urged candidates to "shake him." I have no objection to the execution of this motto. I rather admire it, in fact. But at the same time I wish to "remind all whom it may concern" that the "dead beat" who gets the dollars for his vote is no more censurable than the rich candidate who furnishes the dollars! If the candidates refuse to "come down" there is nothing more certain than that the "dead beat" will be frozen out,—his occupation will be gone! The candidate is a source from which the money comes. If the law will head him off, and prevent the central committee from levying funds for corruption purposes, I am rather inclined to think that the "dead beat's" occupation would be gone—die a natural death. I do not think he is the one altogether to blame, and he ought not be compelled to bear all the censure. If no one pays any thing, he cannot possibly receive anything. The reformation should begin at the fountain head. The candidate who is able to furnish the money that fees the "dead beat" is the man who should be lampooned along with his victim.

A Greencastle Doctor, by a Recent Decision of the United States Supreme Court Made Immensely Rich.

The following item published in the daily papers of Tuesday is of especial interest to a certain Greencastle citizen, the same being Dr. H. R. Pitchlynn:

WASHINGTON, November, 16.—A decision was rendered in the supreme court of the United States yesterday in the case of the Choctaw nation against the United States, involving a claim of more than $8,000,000, in lieu of lands due to the Choctaws under treaty stipulations, but never granted to them. This case was brought to the supreme court on appeal from a judgement of $900,000 allowed the Choctaws by the court of claims. The final result, as decided by the supreme court today, is that the Choctaw nation is entitled to $2,800,000, in addition to $250,000 already paid under the court of claims decision on account of the claim.

A TIMES reporter called upon the Doctor yesterday at his office and found him in good spirits at the success of his Nation, the Choctaws, in their suit with the U. S. government. The case had been pending since 1824 and is the result of a sale of lands in Mississippi, by the Choctaw people to the government, and for which they had never been paid. The case has been in court a long number of years first going to Congress, where it was referred to the court of claims, and was finally disposed of in the supreme court in favor of the Nation. The Doctor says the contestants in the case were what are known as the "old set" (the younger families of their tribe not being included) of Choctaws, the exact number of which he doesn't know, but which will not be over 1,200 at the most. The money with interest will be divided among them. In reply to the question as to how much his share would amount to he thought it would be between $150,000 and $200,000. Mr. Pitchlynn had an uncle living in the Nation, who died some two years ago, who was one of the principal movers in the case and to whom much of their success is due. It will take some time to settle the case definitely but there is now no doubt that the Indians will get their claim, as the decision of the supreme court is of course final. The Doctor is one of the "old set" and to use his words his share "will amount to a pile."

Death of Rev. Edwin Black.

The Indianapolis Journal of Tuesday last contains the following special from Franklin, announcing the death of Rev. Edwin Black.

FRANKLIN, Nov. 15.—News was received here today announcing the death of Rev. Edwin Black, at Archer, Florida, on Friday morning, the 12th inst. Mr. Black was born near Greencastle, graduated from Wabash College, and was pastor of the Presbyterian church at Hopewell from 1865 to 1883. His health began declining at the close of his pastorate there, and he moved to his farm near Greencastle. Last November he went to Florida, where, for a time, his health seemed to improve, but consumption was doing its deadly work, and he passed peacefully away. He was an able minister and a pious gentleman. He was sixty-two years of age. His remains, according to his own request, were buried on the afternoon of the day of his death. The funeral took place from the Presbyterian church at Archer.

The announcement of Mr. Black's death was received by his friends here on Monday. Mr. Black was born and raised in this county and enjoyed a wide acquaintance. He was a son of the late Alexander Black. After retiring from the active ministry he lived on his farm near this city, until he sold it one year ago to go to Florida. A wife and two sons survive him. They will remain in Florida this winter.

Sudden Death.

Last Sunday afternoon Judge H. Trembly a student in the Freshman class of the University, died very suddenly at his boarding house—Mr. Rockaway's on east Washington street. He had been complaining of feeling sick since the previous Friday, and it is thought the violent exercise he indulged in on that day was in a manner the cause of his death. Sunday afternoon he was complaining and went to an out-house in the rear yard and being absent some time, was sought by his room-mate, who found him dead. The coroner held an inquest and his verdict was death by apoplexy, brought on by heart disease. Mr. Trembly's home was in Cambridge City, Ind., where his remains were taken Monday morning, after brief funeral services at Mr. Brockway's residence, Dr. Martin and a delegation of students and class-mates accompanying them. Mr. Trembly was in his nineteenth year, this being his first year in college. His death is a very sad blow to his parents, who some months ago lost a daughter who also died very suddenly.

INDIANA'S CATTLE DISEASE.

Dr. Salmon Says That It Is Not Pleuro-Pneumonia, and Is Not Contagious.

The Indianapolis Journal of Tuesday has the following: "Dr. Salmon, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, has made a thorough investigation of the supposed pleuro-pneumonia in northern Indiana, and has pronounced the disease not pneumonia at all. It is, he claims, the 'hush' or 'hooes' a parasitic bronchitis. The disease, he says, is not contagious, and there need be no further alarm among the stock men of the State over its spreading. The disease is caused by the irritation in the windpipes, bronchial tubes and lungs by a parasite named scientifically strongly. The disease is very fatal to stock in many parts of the country, and especially in the East, where the affected cattle of this State came from. The worms generally attack calves under one year old, and especially such as are pastured in low-lying lands near a river, or land that has been subject to an overflow. It is most prevalent in August and September. The disease is a difficult one to treat, and generally has to run its course. Since the stock men, who killed all of their cattle, have learned that the disease was not pleuro pneumonia, they regret their hasty action, and will endeavor to get the Legislature to reimburse them for their loss, as the killing of the cattle was ordered by the authorities.

The State Board of Health yesterday was notified that a disease which is supposed to be of the same character has broken out in Clay and Putnam counties, and that twenty head of cattle are affected. Drs. Salmon and Metcalf will investigate the matter at once. The disease was never known to exist in this State before. Dr. Salmon says it is the same disease that affects chickens, and is known as "gapes."

Across the Continent.

Leave behind you the snow and ice and seek pleasure and comfort for the winter in the sunny orange groves and gardens of California. The Great Iron Mountain Route will run an excursion train of Royal Pullman Palace cars to Los Angeles, San Francisco and other California points, leaving St. Louis at 9:10 a. m. Dec. 8.

The route lies directly south, avoiding the mountain snow blockades so frequent at this season on the northern routes to California. Tickets for this excursion are good six months, permit stop over and allow privilege of returning different route, if desired without extra cost. Remarkably low rate. For full information apply to your ticket agent, or to COLE ALEXANDER, District pass'r agt. Mo. Pac. Ry. Indianapolis. 3t-51

DEATH OF ARTHUR.

The Ex-President Dies at 5 O'clock this Morning.

As we go to press the telegraph announces the death, this morning at about 5 o'clock, of Chester A. Arthur, ex President of the United States, at his home in New York. Ex president Arthur has been in delicate health for a year or more past, but his early demise was hardly expected by those not intimately connected with his daily life.

Mrs. Livermore.

Owing to the rain, which, as usual on lecture course evenings, poured incessantly, the attendance at the Livermore entertainment on Tuesday evening was not what it would otherwise have been. Owing to some unexplained mistake the lecturer's subject turned out to be "Wendell Phillips" and not "John B. Gough," as had been advertised, and which the audience was expecting up 'till the time the lecture began. Those who had not heard her "Phillips" lecture were well pleased however, and those who had heard it before will not forget it so soon.

After the lecture Mrs. Livermore was tendered a reception at the residence of Prof. Marquis, by the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity, of which she is a member.

The Indianapolis Journal thus points out the programme of the Democratic managers to obtain by fraud and revolutionary tactics in the Legislature what they failed to secure by means of the villainies of the late lamented Gerrymander.

"The purpose and schemes of the Democratic scoundrels and thieves respecting the Legislature were still further developed by the dishonest and baseless contests entered by wholesale against six of the Republican Senators-elect and three or four Representatives-elect. These contests were not made by the defeated candidates on their own motions. They were arranged by the gang at gang headquarters in this city, and the men in whose names they were made are only the pitiable tools of the ring managers, who are determined to steal the General Assembly by fraud and perjuries, since they failed to steal it by the infamous gerrymander. Their acts are the acts of desperate gamblers, and could not be undertaken by men in their right senses, or by men who did not believe that the public conscience was deadened to almost any outrage upon the ballot and against the will of the people that might be conceived and perpetrated. The gerrymander in itself was the offspring of the same spirit that expressed itself in the shotgun and the tissue ballot in the South. But when that failed, when it was found that the people's indignation had overleaped the barriers that measure erected against them, word went out from this city to various quarters, leading Democrats mysteriously disappeared, turning up at several close points, and Republicans-elect were counted out until, on the face of the returns, the Democrats had an apparent majority of two on joint ballot. Then it became public that one of the Democrats elect was clearly ineligible, thus making the Legislature a tie. Then it was known that the Republicans were preparing to ask for a recount in at least one instance, where the majority reported was but two, and where confessed irregularities had occurred. It was also known that in one or two districts, in which there was good ground, the Republican candidates would contest. There was no proposition or suggestion that the Republicans would take a step not clearly within the Constitution and the laws, and warranted by the circumstances and conditions. But the Democrats, having control of the Senate, at once set to work and arranged a series of contests by wholesale, without the slightest reason therefor, with the sole and only intention of threatening to oust a Republican Senator if the Republicans in the House should dare refuse a seat to an ineligible man, or seek to inquire into the election and qualification of a Representative about the legality of which there might be honest and legal doubt. A sample of the sort of contests inaugurated by the Democracy is that of the seat of Col. Dresser, Senator elect from Tippecanoe county, who was elected by a majority of nearly 900. Public sentiment in Lafayette was so emphatic when this contest was made known, that on Saturday Mr. Murdoch, the defeated Democrat, was compelled to go to the county clerk's office and indorse a withdrawal on the back of the notice filed in obedience to the order of the gang from gang headquarters in Indianapolis. The whole proceeding is the work of sordid thieves, as infamous and scoundrelous as any who have bathed the soil of the South in the blood of murdered voters, or who have stifled the voice of the people by frauds that would shame a common robber. First, the gerrymander; then, midnight visits of ringsters and counting out; then, the frauds and forgeries in Marion county; then, the proposition to force the admission of an ineligible man to a seat in the House of Representatives; and now, a wholesale system of contests, to be used as a club over the heads of the Republicans to compel them to submit to any fraud and rascality the gang may determine upon. This is the rake's progress thus far in the work of stealing the General Assembly. But it will not profit them. They are not dealing with children who can be frightened at spooks and by shadows on a wall. The Republicans will go straight forward in their duty. They will keep within the law in the work of overthrowing the gerrymander, as they have been commissioned to do by the voice of a majority of 15,000 of the people of the State of Indiana. They will rely upon that majority for support in all rightful means to make the will of the people supreme, and to put their verdict into effect, and woe be to the gang or the party that gets in the way. They will be caught between the upper and nether millstones and be ground to powder.

But when that failed, when it was found that the people's indignation had overleaped the barriers that measure erected against them, word went out from this city to various quarters, leading Democrats mysteriously disappeared, turning up at several close points, and Republicans-elect were counted out until, on the face of the returns, the Democrats had an apparent majority of two on joint ballot. Then it became public that one of the Democrats elect was clearly ineligible, thus making the Legislature a tie. Then it was known that the Republicans were preparing to ask for a recount in at least one instance, where the majority reported was but two, and where confessed irregularities had occurred. It was also known that in one or two districts, in which there was good ground, the Republican candidates would contest. There was no proposition or suggestion that the Republicans would take a step not clearly within the Constitution and the laws, and warranted by the circumstances and conditions. But the Democrats, having control of the Senate, at once set to work and arranged a series of contests by wholesale, without the slightest reason therefor, with the sole and only intention of threatening to oust a Republican Senator if the Republicans in the House should dare refuse a seat to an ineligible man, or seek to inquire into the election and qualification of a Representative about the legality of which there might be honest and legal doubt. A sample of the sort of contests inaugurated by the Democracy is that of the seat of Col. Dresser, Senator elect from Tippecanoe county, who was elected by a majority of nearly 900. Public sentiment in Lafayette was so emphatic when this contest was made known, that on Saturday Mr. Murdoch, the defeated Democrat, was compelled to go to the county clerk's office and indorse a withdrawal on the back of the notice filed in obedience to the order of the gang from gang headquarters in Indianapolis. The whole proceeding is the work of sordid thieves, as infamous and scoundrelous as any who have bathed the soil of the South in the blood of murdered voters, or who have stifled the voice of the people by frauds that would shame a common robber. First, the gerrymander; then, midnight visits of ringsters and counting out; then, the frauds and forgeries in Marion county; then, the proposition to force the admission of an ineligible man to a seat in the House of Representatives; and now, a wholesale system of contests, to be used as a club over the heads of the Republicans to compel them to submit to any fraud and rascality the gang may determine upon. This is the rake's progress thus far in the work of stealing the General Assembly. But it will not profit them. They are not dealing with children who can be frightened at spooks and by shadows on a wall. The Republicans will go straight forward in their duty. They will keep within the law in the work of overthrowing the gerrymander, as they have been commissioned to do by the voice of a majority of 15,000 of the people of the State of Indiana. They will rely upon that majority for support in all rightful means to make the will of the people supreme, and to put their verdict into effect, and woe be to the gang or the party that gets in the way. They will be caught between the upper and nether millstones and be ground to powder.

"Jim Cummings" is a bold bad robber. He is not content to get away with a hundred thousand dollars of the express company's money, but he must rub it in by writing back tantalizing letters. Jim claims to be the last of the famous James gang and is maintaining well his claim.

THE FAT STOCK SHOW.

FINE EXHIBIT OF HORSES AND CATTLE IN CHICAGO.

A Large Crowd in Attendance and Some Fine Stock Shown—Awarding the Prizes—Slaughtering Contests—Adjournment of the Butter, Egg and Cheese Association—Officers Elected.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The fat stock show was in full blast Thursday and the attendance was larger than on any previous day. The big show ring was cut in half, and exhibits of both cattle and horses were run at the same time. Each was interesting, and, in the opinion of the horse and cattle men present, some fine stock was shown.

The Percheron horses—heavy French draft stock—were first shown. M. W. Dunham, of Wayne, Ill., seemed to have pretty nearly a "walkover." His entries took all the eight premiums in the 3 and 4 year old stallion classes. In the mare class Dunham took nine out of twelve premiums, and Dillon Bros., Normal, Ill., took the remaining three. In the coach and carriage stallions Dunham took first premium. The second went to the same owner, and the third and fourth to Decon Bros., Ottawa, Ill.

In the cattle ring the Devons were first shown. J. W. Morse, Verona, Wis., E. T. Doney, Jackson, Mich., William Younger, Fairbury, Ill., and B. Waddell, Marion, Ohio, dividing the honors between them. In the Sussex class Overton, Lee, Nashville, Tenn., was the winner. In the Aberdeen-Angus, black "moody" cattle, J. Hill, St. Paul, Minn., T. W. Harvey, Turkington, Neb., and G. Simpson, Independence, Mo., carried off the premiums. I. B. Wales, Iowa City, Iowa, was awarded the premiums in the Holstein-Friesian class. In the grade and cross class of meat cattle there were twenty entries, Illinois carrying off all the premiums, except one which went to Kentucky and one to Cheyenne.

The slaughtering tests were interesting to those who could see the operation; but, owing to the inconvenient location, poor accommodations for spectators, not more than one in fifty caught more than a glimpse of what took place. The rapidity with which the butchers killed, skinned, and dressed an animal and the skill with which they handled the razor-like knives and cleavers were a trifle disconcerting to the average spectator, and several women soon concluded that other parts of the building had more attractions. Butchers from Armour's, Hess Bros., and Nels Morris' contested and made some very quick time and performed good work.

THE DAIRYMEN.

After Electing a President and Secretary the Association Adjourns.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—At the session of the National Butter, Egg and Cheese association Friday, James Anderson made a report on the "packing and preserving of eggs." Those shippers without experience and facilities for packing and shipping were advised to pack in cases as the most profitable in the end. As to keeping eggs whole and fresh, many millions of dollars had been expended without making any material progress. Lining was an excellent method, but the eggs were not fresh. "Refrigerating" was very difficult, and when the eggs appeared in the open air again they decomposed very rapidly. The conclusion was drawn that success would never be attained until man knew how to prolong human life.

A resolution was passed requesting the commission of internal revenue to publish once a month the names of those who took out licenses to make and sell oleomargarine. After failing to pass a resolution practically boycotting all organizations and associations which have favored the traffic in oleomargarine, H. E. Gurley, of DeKalb, Ill., was elected president, and R. M. Litter, of Chicago, secretary. A resolution as a substitute for the one referred to above and simply refusing to make an alliance with the Illinois board of agriculture until change was made in its purposes was passed and the association adjourned sine die.

First Hanging for Forty Years.
JONESBORO, Ill., Nov. 13.—For the first time since way back in the '40s the little city of Jonesboro was the scene of a hanging. Friday, William S. Wilson, convicted of murdering his wife, was hanged by the neck and executed by the State of Illinois. He was a brute in his treatment of his wife, leaving her sometimes for days entirely unprovided for. The neighbors went to the house the day of the murder to cut some wood for the deserted wife, when he came home, went in the house, and in a few moments a shot was heard, and the poor woman ran out and fell dead in the yard. She was pregnant at the time.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.
SHEFFIELD, Pa., Nov. 13.—The boiler in Maples' mill exploded with terrific force Friday night, blowing the mill to atoms, instantly killing Milton Maples, owner of the mill, and his son, a boy 12 years old, was torn to fragments. Robert Monroe, Link Constock, and Harry Knowles, employees, were seriously if not fatally injured. Maples leaves a wife and large family. The cause of the explosion is not known.

Tally Sheet Forgers Bound Over.
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 16.—Algeron Granville, ex-prosecuting attorney; Robert Montgomery, Dr. C. R. Montgomery, B. H. Marriott, and Otto W. Horn, defendants in the tally sheet forgery case, have been bound over to the court of common pleas. Fred Staube was dismissed. Justice Fritchey said he had considered the evidence very carefully and gave his decision from his own honest convictions.

ENTHUSIASTIC AUDITORS.

Mrs. Parsons, the Wife of the Convicted Anarchist, Speaks at Paterson, N. J.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Between 300 and 300 people gathered in Harmony hall, Paterson, N. J., Sunday evening to listen to Mrs. Parsons, the wife of the condemned anarchist, Mrs. Parsons, after surveying the crowd for a moment, said:

"Before I begin to speak I wish to say to the gentlemen who would remove their hats. When this had been done she added: 'Gentlemen, there is too much smoke in this room. Please put your pipes away until I have finished.' In beginning her speech, she asked: 'What are you here for?' A tall man with red whiskers replied: 'They are humbugs.' 'You are too enthusiastic,' said Mrs. Parsons. 'I will do the talking.' After reading extracts from several New York papers commenting on the trial of the anarchists, she spoke of the cause which led to the riots in Chicago. A sleepy-looking man in the third row of seats exclaimed: 'Bully for you!' To this Mrs. Parsons answered: 'You are too enthusiastic.' She then described the meeting of anarchists, which she and her husband attended, declaring that it was a peaceable gathering.

Malignant Diphtheria in Springfield, Ohio.
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Nov. 12.—It was supposed that the malignant diphtheria here had been checked, but this week sees it in a more dangerous condition than ever before. Already twelve deaths have occurred this week, an increase of five over last week and two more days to bear from. In the eastern part of the city the disease is spreading rapidly. At Clifton and Oak Grove, this county, the schools have closed. In the latter place no school will be held until the first of January. At Clifton the principal is down with the disease together with a large number of scholars.

The Patrons of Husbandry.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—The National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, composed of delegates from every state and territory in the United States, commenced their twentieth annual session Wednesday morning in Musical Fund hall. The meetings are held in secret, and will continue about eight days. The business Wednesday was principally confined to the reception of credentials and the appointment of committees.

Combination of Cattle Growers.
CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—The National Cattle Growers' Association of America held its annual session at the Sherman House Monday afternoon, the last meeting prior to a consolidation with the National Cattle and Horse Growers' association of the United States. The object of the new association will be to protect the cattle interest and obtain proper legislation to prevent and stamp out contagious diseases.

Presidential Appointments.
WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 13.—Among the appointments announced Friday were the following: W. D. Burnett, of Cincinnati, United States attorney for the southern district of Ohio; Frank C. Hoffman, appraiser of merchandise at Chicago; C. W. Irish, of Iowa City, Iowa, surveyor general of Nevada.

Sixty Persons Drowned at Sea.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The steamer Oceanic, which arrived Monday from Hong Kong and Yokohama, brings intelligence of the sinking of the steamer Normanton, with a cargo of tea for New York and Canada off Pashima, Japan. Of seventy-two persons on board, all but twelve were drowned.

A Bad Christian Paper.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 11.—The testimony in the Converse trial was resumed Wednesday by the prosecution, and evidence was introduced to show that the reputation of Converse's paper, The Christian Observer, was bad. The Converse brothers are charged with violating the ninth commandment.

Charles Herriek Dead.
RACINE, Wis., Nov. 15.—Charles Herriek, one of the oldest and wealthiest men in Racine county, died Sunday of rheumatism of the heart. He left an estate valued at $600,000.

A Town Almost Burned Up.
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 15.—Plain City, twenty miles from here on the Cincinnati & St. Louis railway, with a population of 700, was almost destroyed by fire Monday morning.

The President Appoints.
WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 16.—The president has appointed George J. Weiler to be surveyor of customs for the port of Michigan City, Ind.

Died, Nov. 11, Harley, son of Mrs. Bettie Cassidy, with membranous croup. Harley was a bright little boy, and the mother has the sympathy of us all in her affliction.

Our Commissioner elect was around to the polls on election day with a copy of the TIMES in his hand giving a certain gravel road article the lie. He also said he would correct certain abuses in the gravel road steal. We say wait and see what we shall see.

RUSSELLVILLE.

Mr. Geo. Brown has gone to Kentucky on business.

Mrs. Joe Myers, of Boonville, Ind., is here visiting relatives.

Mr. Joe Allen, of Greencastle, visited relatives here last week.

Mr. Smiley, our new hardware merchant has moved to town.

Mr. Hiatt is expecting to move to his former home, North Salem, Ind.

Miss May Durham has returned from an extended visit to Mt Sterling, Ky.

Geo. Baird, of Illinois, and Mr. Tinsley, of Hillsborough, attended the funeral of Dr. Baird.

James Walden, formerly of this place, but now of Southern, California, is visiting friends in this neighborhood.

Mr. Owens has returned thoroughly disgusted with Kansas. He thinks one year's residence there should satisfy anyone.

Thanksgiving services will be held at the M. E. church. In the evening the ladies will give a supper for the benefit of the sexton.

Mr. Chas. W. Brown, of Winfield, Kansas, who is here visiting his father, met with a sad accident last Tuesday evening. He was thrown from a buggy and dislocated his arm. He is slowly improving.

After a short, but severe illness Dr. J. W. Baird died Friday, Nov. 5th. He came to Russellville twenty years ago, and resided here until his death. He practiced medicine until recently, when he became engaged in the mercantile business. He was ever regarded as one of the best and most respected citizens, and is sadly missed by all.

FINCASTLE.

Week Wilson has moved on his farm in Hendricks county, three miles northeast of this place.

Our correspondent says he saw two distinct showers of cats from a clear sky on the west side of the creek one day recently.

MAPLE GROVE.

There is rumor of a double wedding to take place soon.

Harvey O'Hair, of Brick Chapel, was here this week buying calves.

There is some talk of organizing a literary society at Mt. Pleasant soon.

J. M. Hillis has bought I. N. Dicks' farm. Mr. Dicks will remove to Crawfordsville.

Lexie Coffman and sister, of Carpentersville, visited relatives here last week; also Merle Abrams at his grandfather's, A. Abrams.

OUR DAILY BREAD.

Heavy and sour bread or biscuit have a vast influence through the digestive organs upon the measure of health we enjoy. How important to our present happiness and future usefulness the blessing of good health and a sound constitution are, we can only realize when we have lost them, and when it is too late to repair the damage. And yet, notwithstanding these facts, thousands of persons daily jeopardize not only their health, but their lives, and the healths and lives of others, by using articles in the preparation of their food the purity and healthfulness of which they know nothing. Perhaps a few cents may have been saved, or it may have been more convenient to obtain the articles used, and the housekeeper takes the responsibility and possibly will never know the mischief that has been wrought. Paterfamilias may have spells of headache, Johnnie may have lost his appetite, Susie may look pale; if so, the true cause is rarely suspected. The weather, the lack of out-door air, or some other cause is given, and the unwholesome, poisonous system of adulterated food goes on. Next to the flour, which should be made of good sound wheat, and not ground too fine, the yeast or baking powder, which furnishes the rising properties, is of the greatest importance, and of the two we prefer baking powder, and always use the Royal, as we thereby retain the original properties of the wheat, no fermentation taking place. The action of the Royal Baking Powder upon the dough is simply to swell it and form little cells through every part. These cells are filled with carbonic acid gas, which passes off during the process of baking.

The Royal is made from pure grape acid, and it is the action of this acid upon highly carbonized bicarbonate of soda that generates the gas alluded to; and these ingredients are so pure and so perfectly fitted, tested and adapted to each other, that the action is mild and permanent, and is continued during the whole time of baking, and no residue of poisonous ingredients remains to undermine the health, no heavy biscuits, no sour bread, but if directions are followed, every article prepared with the Royal Baking Powder will be found sweet and wholesome.

Thirty persons in the United States, it is stated, have the surname Shakespeare, but no one of them is able to trace his lineage back to the great dramatist.

J. A. Crawford says: "I have had the worst form of eczema two years, and found no relief from some of our best physicians who have made this disease a specialty. I was persuaded to try Papillon (extract of flax) skin cure when all others fail. Large bottles $1.00. For sale at all drug stores."

The most completely lost of all days is the one on which we have not laughed.—Chamfort.

GOT THE BEST OF THE DOCTOR.

W. F. Beyer, Garrettsville, Ohio, says, "My wife has been troubled with Catarrh a long time, but have, with what remedies we had, and what the doctor could do, kept the upper hand of it until this fall, when everything failed. Her throat was raw as far as one could see, with an incessant cough, when I invested my dollar in a bottle of your Papillon Catarrh Cure as a last resort. To-day she is free from cough, throat all healed and entirely cured." Papillon (extract of flax) catarrh cure effects cures when all others fail. Large bottles $1.00, at all drug stores.

Contentment is said to be as good as money. Both are hard to keep.—New Orleans Picayune.

A Handsome Holiday Present.

As the holidays are now approaching we know of no article that will prove a more useful and acceptable present than the "Wonderful Luburg Chair." Having over fifty changes, it can be adjusted to suit any position of the body, and being one of these wonderful contrivances it seems to please everybody.

It is designed for the parlor, library, or as part furnish of any room as a reclining, smoking or for invalids' use, lounge, bed or couch. Their prices were wonderfully low, about one half what other makers ask.

Write for descriptive catalogue to the Luburg Manufacturing Co., 145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia.

Herbert Spencer is now able to walk a little every day.

Used Red Star Cough Cure effectively. Dr. C. Fawcett, Union Protestant Infirmary, Baltimore, Md. No depressing effects.

For eight years Col. D. J. Williamson, Quartermaster U. S. A. and ex U. S. Consul at Callao, was crippled with rheumatism. He got no relief until he used St. Jacobs Oil, which cured him. No remedy on earth equals it for pain. Price, fifty cents a bottle.

A French doctor has known ear-rings to cause erysipelas.

The great sources of the extensive curative range of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic are its great blood purifying qualities and its gentle aperitive action, thereby removing all restraint from the secretive organs, curing promptly and thoroughly dyspepsia, costiveness, bad breath, piles, pimples, low spirits, sick and nervous headache, ague malaria and all stomach liver and kidney troubles. The most delicate stomach accepts it with relish. Price 50 cts of J. E. Allen & Co.

New Jersey put up nearly 14,000 cans of tomatoes during the past autumn.

Judge a government by the men it produces. Judge a man by his deeds, a tree by its fruits, a medicine by its results. Time tried and true is Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure, which contains the good qualities of all the best cough remedies without the defects of any of them. A safe and speedy remedy for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. Sold by J. E. Allen & Co. in fifty cent and dollar bottles. Healing to the lungs. Safe and pleasant for children.

CATARRH

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Made only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

A Georgia item tells of a man who shot himself while "pranking with a gun."

YEARS TEACH MORE THAN BOOKS.

Among other valuable lessons imparted by this teacher is the fact that for a very long time Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has been prince of liver correctives and blood purifiers, being the household physician of the poor man and the able consulting physician to the rich patient, and praised by all for its magnificent service and efficacy in all diseases of a chronic nature, as malarial poisoning, ailments of the respiratory and digestive systems, liver disease and in all cases where the use of an alterative remedy is indicated.

Not an Ache

or pain in the Rheumatic line have I had since using ATHLOPHOROS two years ago. It made a thorough cure in my case." Miss, ELLA SMITH, 61 N. Foster Street, Springfield, O.

From all over the country come similar testimonials of the efficacy of ATHLOPHOROS in curing both rheumatism and neuralgia. No other remedy has been discovered that is a real cure for either of these terrible diseases. ATHLOPHOROS is not an experiment, it has been tried and its value proved by thousands of people all over the United States. No remedy has ever been put on the market that has brought such universal relief to sufferers from rheumatism and neuralgia. ATHLOPHOROS is absolutely safe to take and will surely bring relief. If you doubt its merits read for names of persons in your own State who have been cured by its use.

Ask your druggist for ATHLOPHOROS. If you cannot get it of him we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—$1.00 per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 WALL ST., NEW YORK.

THE editor of the Ladoga Leader urges all south-bound tramps to beat the road if they can, adding

One of the most flattering signs of the times, with all it promises and portends, is the growth of the labor idea in the Southern States. The results of the recent elections in many of the strongholds of conservative and unprogressive Bourbonism, indicate that a real live lump of heaven is at work which threatens to change the consistency of the whole loaf. The convention of the Knights of Labor at Richmond has served to drill not a few living ideas into the old hulk, and with the everywhere awakening influences of manufacturing industries there appear rifts in the clouds of stagnation and political prejudice that have so long obscured this naturally brave, bold and beautiful land of earthquake and Democracy. This breaking away from staid and traditional moorings lends an air of uncertainty to the political status, and takes away the landmarks and corner-stones from which surveyors in politics have run their lines, and laid out their plans of operations. Particularly disquieting is this state of facts to the leaders of Democracy, who for a generation have been wont to build their calculations with absolute and unquestioned certainty upon the foundation of a Solid South. The idea that the white mechanics and laboring men, who are multiplying daily throughout the Southern States, should stand for their rights, and rally around them organization and power enough to make themselves felt, is like the dawning of a new and bright light upon a benighted mind to Southerners. If the figures of the late political contest show anything at all, they show that the awakening of the dormant industries of the Southern soil is exerting an energetic and wholesome influence upon the dormant faculties of the more progressive Southern mind, and that the stagnant ideas of Bourbon torpidity are no longer good enough for a country with unlimited resources in her bowels, and brawn and brain enough on the surface to get them out. The American workingmen in South have a great burden of prejudice and sectional pride to overcome before they stand on an equal footing with their Northern brethren in their common fight for justice and protection; but who is more amply able to cope with such a task than the fearless and independent hosts of labor? The workingmen of the South owe it to themselves and their brothers in the North to rive the chains that bind their section to the un-American ideas of free trade and sectional aristocracy.

If there was one thing demonstrated with any more emphasis than another by the recent campaign it is the fact that noise, torchlights, bass drums and oratory do not carry elections. The quiet, persistent, persevering work of the State press is the lever that turned the dead weight. Where the most decisive results are shown throughout the State, there it is found that no speech making and no "grand rallies" of any kind were permitted. Gen. Hovey carried the first district, making a change of 3,000 votes, without a speech of any degree being delivered in his bailiwick. Here is a pointer for future campaigners.

The cattle disease prevalent in Clinton, Benton, and other counties and reported to be pleuro pneumonia, is pronounced by U. S. Veterinarian Salmon as not pleuro pneumonia at all. It is a disease called verminous bronchitis, and is less contagious and deadly than the former malady. It is, however, contagious and fatal enough to warrant the extreme measures in stamping it out.

THE Democratic leaders of the State have caused notice of contest to be filed in all the close Legislative districts, many of which are wholly destitute of cause for contest, showing very plainly that it is their purpose to carry revolutionary methods into the Assembly to wrest from the Republicans their hard earned victory.

THE stockholders of the First National Bank, of Indianapolis, have voted to go into liquidation and retire from business, giving as cause that the outlook for the future of National banking was not flattering. This bank has been the leading and one of the most profitable institutions of the kind in the State.

BRIGGS' war seems to have just begun. Defeat does not knock out this doughty warrior in the cause of reform, and if we mistake not his temper, the organ-grinder will not pass a pleasant winter. The grinder should let the contract for another "reply."

MUNCIE has struck a gas well. From reports, it rivals many of the Ohio finds and eclipses Kokomo. Greencastle can boast as much gas to the square inch as any town in the State, but to date it is still walking about on the surface.

THOSE who have a lively memory of the city government as it was a few years ago, under certain ring rule, are wont to smile at some criticisms of to-day.

REFORMER is marching on, the Grinder grinds, and the Croaker croaks. The Grinder, the Croaker and the Reformer! Truly a trio of which to be proud.

WATTESON'S abiding faith in free trade should be put to the test by running him for Congress in Mr. Carlisle's district.

A Card.

BELLEVILLE, ILL., Nov. 13, 1886.

EDITOR OF TIMES: Will you permit me space in your columns to express to the people of Greencastle the gratitude of my heart for their kindness and sympathy in my great affliction. To the Masonic fraternity and the Order of Workmen, for evidences of love for my dear husband, my heart will ever go out in grateful remembrance. It is also fitting that I make special mention of the hospitality and marked attention of Brother H. C. Darnall and family. The name of Greencastle and her good people will never die upon my lips. Her beautiful cemetery is the resting place of the mortal remains of him who was all to me. That I must live elsewhere for the time seems to be ordained; but I know that my Redeemer liveth and after mortal life shall cease, I shall, with you, kind friends, join the heavenly host of those who have loved.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease, caused by serofulous taint in the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla, being a constitutional remedy, purifies the blood, builds up the whole system, and permanently cures catarrh. Thousands of people who suffered severely with this disagreeable disease, testify with pleasure that catarrh cured by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Alfred Cunningham, Fallon Avenue, Providence, R. I., says: "I have suffered with catarrh in my head for years, and paid out hundreds of dollars for medicines, but have heretofore received only temporary relief. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now my catarrh is nearly cured, the weakness of my body is all gone, my appetite is good—in fact, I feel like another person. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I have ever taken, and the only one which did me permanent good. I cordially recommend it." A gentleman in Worcester, Mass., who was

Can be

Cured

Of catarrh by Hood's Sarsaparilla, says: "I would not take any moneyed consideration for the good one bottle did me." If you are a sufferer, do not put off taking a simple remedy till your bronchial tubes or lungs are affected, and consumption has gained a hold upon you. Be wise in time! That flow from the nose, ringing noise in the ears, pain in the head, inflammation of the throat, cough, and nervous prostration will be cured if you take

TIRED OUT!
At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS
TRADE MARK
PURITY
NOT QUANTITY
ON EVERY BOTTLE

THE BEST TONIC

For Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, etc., it HAS NO EQUAL, and is the only iron medicine that is not injurious. It enriches the blood, invigorates the system, restores appetite, aids digestion. It does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other iron medicines do.

Dr. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, Ohio, says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action exceeds all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it."

DR. W. N. WATERS, 1239 Thirty-second Street, Georgetown, D. C., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the tonic of the age. Nothing better. It creates appetite, gives strength and improves digestion."

Genuine has above Trade Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

Fathers O'Donnahue and O'Regan, who have been in charge of the mission services at the Catholic church have gone to Michigan to engage in similar work.

Miss Mary Rogers, who has been living with Mr. George Grubb and family, died last Wednesday evening of peritonitis. The funeral occurred Thursday afternoon.

The second rehearsal of the School of Music orchestra occurred last evening. An increased attendance was out and much interest is being taken in the work by the members.

Warren G. Richards and his talented company of artists will appear in the latest comedy success—"Wanted: A Husband."—at the opera house Monday evening next, Nov. 22.

A stranger put on a pair of over-shoes, barrowed an umbrella and played the "around the corner" racket on P. R. Christie & Co. At last account he remaineth "around the corner."

In the case of the State vs. Mollie Vancleave, formerly of this city at Shelbyville last week, the jury found a verdict against the defendant and she was given a year in the reformatory.

Tuesday evening next Charles Stedman's company will appear at the opera house in the comedy success of the season—"Our Boarding House." Mr. Stedman as "Gillipod" will be supported by an excellent company of artists.

The St. Louis Globe Democrat, speaking of Gilmore's concerts at the Exposition in that city, said: "To say that these concerts are such as only Gilmore can give—simply perfection, is all that can be said—all that eulogy can say."

John Long, who was arrested and bound over to the circuit court, some weeks ago, and who has been in jail since, was acquitted by the jury Monday. He was charged with stealing a knife from one Sensibough, a student in DePauw University.

L. Weber, of Indianapolis, was in the city the first of the week on business. He is a brother in law of Mr. Ed. Hanemann. His daughter Maggie, who had been visiting at Mr. Hanemann's for several months, returned with her father to Indianapolis.

B. C. Bent, the cornet soloist of Gilmore's band, is the equal of any cornetist in the country, Liberati and Levy not excepted. He has been with Gilmore ten years, coming from one of the best of the English bands. His execution is somewhat wonderful.

Kocheler, Meiling, and Morelli are all clarinetists in Gilmore's band, the first trio being Germans and the later an Englishman. Weller is the fourth of the clarinet magicians, and Charles Freudenvoll, the first sergeant of the band, is the fifth, and its business manager. All are very superior artists.

Madam Rive-King, the celebrated pianist, will appear in concert here the 30th of the month. She will be the special guest of the Alpha Chi Omega fraternity, of which she is a member. Her last concert here was a treat to musicians and music lovers in general.

Died in St. Louis, Mo., at 6:30 p. m., Sunday, Nov. 14, Mrs. Mary Marksbury. Mrs. Marksbury was the eldest sister of Mrs. John Woolrich, of this city, and the remains were brought here Tuesday, the funeral occurring yesterday. She was the mother of J. Marksbury, of the Central House.

Living on the Sea.

The kind of food used at sea at the present day is much improved on what it was formerly. Not so much reliance is placed on salt provisions. Canned meats and vegetables are more largely used. The quantity is abundant, and the cooking, while perhaps not always calculated to agree with a seafaring person, is usually quite good, except the bread, which, for some reason or other, is rarely good at sea. The coffee is not improved by being carried the long distance from the galley to the after-house. Still, there are some things that are always excellent. If you want to know what really good pea or bean soup is, you will have to go to sea for it. Though seafaring men, as a rule, are pretty large eaters, but little time is spent at the table. About fifteen minutes for each meal would be about the average.

The captain, mate, and the captain's wife and family, if they are on board, and the passengers, if any, eat at the first table, and are waited on by the steward and cabin boy. The second mate and carpenter, and on most ships the third mate and boatswain, eat at the second. The sailors take their food from the galley into the fore-cabin and eat it there. The water on these long voyages is usually allowed—a necessary precaution—the quantity being about a gallon a day per man, although this is not always strictly adhered to, for washing purposes, and also for cooking and drinking. If the water in the tanks should run short, they depend almost entirely upon rainwater, which at times, especially on the equator, is caught in immense quantities, the tops of all the deck-houses being arranged with ledges and spouts to run the water into casks. The rainfalls are at times something wonderful, and when they occur in a calm and the vessel is standing up straight the quantity of water that can be collected is very large.—Cor. Baltimore American.

Brain Action in Children.

In The Archives de Pediatrics Dr. Warner remarks that in every attempt to control brain action in children, or to aid in action, two factors are needed—nutrition, and forces acting upon the brain directing that nutrition; a less coordinated, steady uniform kind of action may be desired—that is, the child may be healthy, but stupid, fat and very slow, strong, but inert—in which case town-life and more stimulating food may be needed. As to articles of diet, Dr. Warner says that meat, broth and beef tea appear to produce a stimulating effect upon the nerve-system of children, increasing the quantity and brain-stimulating quality of the blood; it may be especially useful in some cases of dull-brained children. But farinaceous foods, in contrast to meat, offer the choice of diet of great importance, being less stimulating, more quieting, less adapted to excite brain evolution, more suitable for cases of nervous excitability, especially if combined with fats—in such cases hydrocarbonaceous rather than nitrogenous diets being needed. Dr. Warner further states that arsenic, administered to children with their food, has often appeared to him to be a great aid to nerve growth.—Chicago Tribune.

How to Become Courageous.

Demand imperiously and persistently any quality of character in which you may be lacking, and you attract increase of such quality. Demand more patience or decision or judgment or courage or hopefulness or exactness, and you will increase in such qualities. These qualities are real elements. They belong to the subtle and as yet unrecognized chemistry of nature.

The man discouraged, hopeless and whining has unconsciously demanded discouragement and hopelessness. So he gets it. This is his unconscious mental training to evil. Mind is "magnetic," because it attracts to itself whatever thought it fixes itself upon, or whatever it opens itself to. Allow yourself to fear, and you open the door and invite fear in; you then demand fear. Set your mind on the thought of courage, see yourself in mind or imagination as courageous, and you become more courageous. You demand courage.—Prentice Munford's "White Cross Library."

New Hebrides Hair Dressing.

The inhabitants of Tanna have more of the negro cast of countenance than Papuan tribes usually have, but there are good-looking men and women among them. They paint their faces with red earth, which they get from the neighboring islands of Aneiteum and Erromango. They frizzle their hair, and the men especially carry hair dressing into a fine art. Dr. Turner says he counted no fewer than 700 separate curls on the head of one young exquisite! A similar practice prevails on the other islands of Aneiteum, Nima and Futuna, and Dr. Livingstone has noted a somewhat similar practice of twisting the hair into innumerable small spiral curls among the Kanyai of central Africa. The people of Tanna are fond of ornaments, but not of very much clothing. They do not tattoo, but they wear fearful and wonderful tortoise-shell arrangements in their ears.—All the Year Round.

Story of a French Bishop.

Mrs. Fremont, in her sketch of the life of her father—Senator Benton—tells the following of the French bishop at St. Louis at the time of the purchase of Louisiana. It was a point of honor among the older French not to learn English; but the bishop needed to acquire fluent English for all uses, and for use from the pulpit especially. To force himself into familiar practice, the bishop secluded himself for awhile with the family of an American farmer, where he would hear no French. Soon he had gained enough to announce a sermon in English. Senator Benton was present, and his feelings can be imagined when the polished, refined bishop said: "My friends, I am right-down glad to see such a smart chance of folks here today."—The Argonaut.

The Ages of the Presidents.

Those who have held the noblest position known to our form of government attained it late in life. Particularly is this true of President Harrison, who was the oldest of the presidents, being 67 years of age when he was elected. Buchanan was 65 when he became chief magistrate, and next to him, in point of years was Zachary Taylor, the hero of Buena Vista, and the eleventh president of the United States. John Adams, Washington's successor, was 61, as also was Andrew Jackson, and both Madison and Monroe and also John Quincy Adams were 58 when they attained presidential honors. Washington, Jefferson, and Martin Van Buren were each 57, and James K. Polk was 48. Franklin Pierce was next to the youngest, being 45, while U. S. Grant was 47 at the time of his inaugural.

Of the three vice presidents, Tyler, Fillmore, and Johnson, the former was 51, the latter 59, and Mr. Fillmore was 59. Hayes was 54, Garfield was 49, Arthur was 50, and President Cleveland was 47. Four presidents, Washington, John Adams, Jefferson, and Madison, went out of office in their 66th year. Eleven days after Jackson's retirement he was 70. John Adams lived longer than any of the presidents. He died July 4, 1826, at the age of 91. Jefferson died the same day, and but a few hours later. Madison lived to be 84. John Quincy Adams to be 81. Van Buren 80, and Jackson to be 79. Monroe died at the age of 73, on the 4th of July, 1828. President Pierce retired from office at the age of 52. Mr. Polk at 54. The latter died three months later.

Three of the presidents, Jefferson, John Adams and Monroe, died on the Fourth of July. The two former at the same hour. Lincoln was 69 years old when he was murdered. The later presidents have been shorter lived than the chief magistrates of the earlier period.—New York Sun.

Gen. Grant's Colored Servant.

Harrison, the colored body servant of Gen. Grant, is earning a living as a compositor in the government printing house at Washington. A typesetter who has been working alongside of Harrison tells this story with reference to what Gen. Grant desired should be his last resting place. Two or three days before the general died, he called Harrison to him and wrote a note on one of the pads that he always kept at his elbow. It was a statement of where he wished to be buried. He was in the habit of writing messages of this kind and handing them to Harrison, and sometimes gave directions to the colored man in writing, so that Harrison felt free, as he stood there awaiting the general's instructions, to read what he had written. The general folded the note and placed it in an envelope and told Harrison to deliver it to Mrs. Grant three days after he should die. The note was actually delivered on the second day after the general's death, instead of the third, because of the pressure that had been brought to bear on Mrs. Grant on this subject. Harrison refuses to answer any questions regarding the contents of the note except that when asked if the general is buried in accordance with his wishes he replies in the negative.—New York Tribune.

A Freak of Nature.

This is a time of the year when every other man complains that his feet hurt him. It is always so just before spring sets in and before cold weather arrives. It is not because men wear tight shoes, but it seems to be a freak of nature in this climate. The rest of the body may be pleasantly warm, but the feet seem to be subject to a heating process that the loosest or most perfect fitting shoe can not prevent. Shoemakers observe that they have more complaint on account of shoes made during the two periods I have mentioned than at any other time during the year. I merely state the fact from my own experience and observation, and leave it for the scientist or physician to explain.

Speaking of shoes, I wonder why it is that boots have so largely fallen from the grace of fashion. Ten years ago men wore boots, now a shoe store will not sell two dozen pairs during the winter. I am speaking, however, only for the city, as in the country boots are as popular as ever. Perhaps there is good reason for change. Boots are not as dressy as shoes, and they are not a bit warmer than shoes, for the leather gives little protection against cold to the calves.—Globe-Democrat.

Greenough's Statue of Franklin.

A Boston newspaper man says that Greenough's statue of Franklin in that city is worth studying, because it illustrates a theory for which the sculptor had the authority of the great physiognomist, Lavater. It is that each of the human face represents different phases of human nature, man being a dual animal, with a double set of characteristics. On one side of the bronze face of Franklin, Greenough has depicted the expression of the man of science who drew the lightning from the clouds; on the other he has represented the features of the author of the homely philosophy embodied in "Poor Richard's Almanac."—Chicago Times.

Our Presidents in a Row.

One boy in Springfield, Mass., is so bright that he has got into the newspapers. The brightness consisted in asking his school teacher how far a procession of the presidents of the United States would reach if they were placed in a row. When she gave it up he answered: "From Washington to Cleveland."

Prize Questions and Answers.

The prize question, "Why is the wife the man's better half?" was put to its readers by a German newspaper. The prize answer was that the first man was made out of clay, while the first woman was made out of ribs, the best part of the meat.—Exchange.

A BOY MUSICIAN'S BEGINNING.

Little Giuseppe Verdi and the Violinist—An Almost Fatal Mistake.

The little boy who was afterward to immortalize the name of Giuseppe Verdi one day heard a pedestrian violinist of the name of Bagasset, whose name you will kindly not confound with the name of Badinguet, the mason, whose name was given to the Emperor Napoleon III. Bagasset with his wretched old violin came to the village Roncole, and there scraping as best he could, unconsciously set fire to the powder mine in little Giuseppe's heart. Bad and common though the match was, the fire burned fiercely and rapidly and the child fell into such ecstasies that the "musician," who, though a very small one, had his vanity, was so pleased that not only did he return again and again to his inspired audience of "one," but he told the poor father that the best thing he could do was to make a musician of the child, that he would get glory and money out of him, and so earnestly did he preach that the father took the advice seriously into consideration.

I myself know an instance of a little boy who seemed to have a decidedly musical organization and was advised to learn music. Here comes a moment where I wish to give sincere and, I believe, desirable advice to parents. Just as I said that you will never make a pink out of a rose nor a flower out of an onion, so you will never make a musician out of a boy who has perhaps the stuff for a great painter in him or a sculptor out of a boy who might become a very respectable and prosperous tradesman. The boy I just mentioned had really some qualification for music, but what did they do with him? They took a piano teacher as cheap as possible, because "for a child anybody might do," and he bored the boy so with tedious studies that he began to cry every time the master entered the room. This is a very general and often fatal mistake. A bad master, who begins unintelligently, who gives the pupil bad habits, allows him to hold his fingers badly stretched so that they touch the keys with the flat part instead of the bent point of the finger, which alone gives a good touch, this first and paramount necessity neglected may spoil him forever.

So with the voice. I have seen numberless cases where a bad beginning, or a master encouraging shouting, or a bad way of holding the chin too high or too low, entirely spoiled the production of the voice. The boy in question, tolerably intelligent and gifted, was so bored by awkward tuition that the mother, seeing the child cry—a convincing argument, for a mother—gave up all idea, sent the master away, and sold the piano. But then came the warm rain—the opportunity. The child was taken to a concert where Viextemps played, then himself very young. He so electrified the child in question that from that moment he made up his mind to study music. Next day he visited with his mother a lady amateur of great talent, who had a grand piano in her drawing-room, and the child went straight to the piano and, without tuition and preparation, sat down and from memory played, however badly and irregularly, the greater part of the andante he had heard Viextemps play the night before. The lady amateur listened without saying a word, but when the visitor took her little boy away, she whispered in her ear: "Mind you take him to a good master, not one who does not understand him; he will go very far." This was done, and the boy acquired some name in after days on the continent.—Temple Bar.

More Precious Than Gold.

Not a dozen people in this city could guess what was in a little cigar box that William A. Atkins, of Provincetown, Cape Cod, had under his arm when he was here. If you saw it on the sidewalk you would take particular pains to pass it by, but you would pass by a small fortune. The yellow and unpleasant-looking and unpleasant-smelling stuff is ambergris of the best quality, and it is worth more per ounce than gold. It is found only in the intestines of a deceased whale, and is used in the manufacture of fine colognes.

But one vessel this season has reported a find of this sort, and that is the schooner Antarctic, of Provincetown. A whale that she killed in Sanz bay, West Indies, last April, yielded thirty pounds of ambergris, and it has just arrived home. It is worth nearly $10,000, and is of more value than all the oil the vessel has on board. Mr. Atkins, who is the owner of the Antarctic and is at the head of the whaling industry of Cape Cod, had a sample of it in his cigar box. As no other ambergris is likely to be brought home this year he has a corner on the market.—New York Market Journal.

A Case of Conjugal Fidelity.

A merchant of Athens was recently captured by Greek brigands who carried him off to the mountains, whence he wrote a letter to his wife recounting his misfortunes, and containing the following most important passage: "My ransom is fixed at 1,000 drachmas; if the brigands do not receive this sum by the 15th inst. they will cut off my nose; the 16th my ears; the 17th my upper lip; the 18th my lower lip, and the 19th, if the money is not forthcoming, they will kill me." The poor woman used her best efforts to procure the required amount, but it was not until the evening of the 18th that she had managed to scrape together the 1,000 drachmas for her husband's ransom. She then said to a neighbor: "My husband must look a perfect fright by this time. I think I will keep the 1,000 drachmas to make a better match."—Le Figaro.

To Save the Expense.

The Alleghenians are a frugal folk. A Pittsburg man advertised for a cook, and received this note from a citizen of Allegheny: "Dear Sir: I have seen your advertisement for a cook for three days in the papers. When you get what you want, please send the rest of the girls to me, as I don't care to advertise."—New York Sun.

EPITHEIOMA! OR SKIN CANCER.

For seven years I suffered with a cancer on my face. All the simple remedies were applied to alleviate the pain, but the cancer continued to grow, finally extending into my nose, from which came a yellowish discharge very offensive in character. It was also inflamed, and annoyed me a great deal. About eight months ago I was in Atlanta at the house of a friend, who so strongly recommended the use of Swift's Specific that I determined to make an effort to procure it. In this I was successful, and I began its use. The influence of the medicine at first was to somewhat aggravate the sore, but soon the inflammation was allayed, and I began to improve after the first few bottles. My general health was greatly improved. I am strong and able to do any kind of work. The cancer on my face began to decrease and the ulcer to heal, until there is not a vestige of it left—only a little scar marks the place where it had been. I am ready to answer all questions relative to this cure.

Mrs. JORDIE A. McDONALD, Atlanta, Ga., August 11, 1885.

I have had a cancer on my face for some years, extending from one cheek bone across the nose to the other. It has given me a great deal of pain, at times burning and itching to such an extent that it was almost unbearable. I commenced using Swift's Specific in May, 1885, and have used eight bottles. It has given the greatest relief by removing the inflammation and restoring my general health.

W. BARNES, Knoxville, Iowa, September 5, 1885.

For many years I was a sufferer with cancer of the nose, and having been cured by the use of S. S. S. I feel constrained by a sense of duty to testify to the efficacy of this medicine. The fourteenth bottle the cancer began to heal rapidly and soon disappeared, and for several months there has been no appearance of a sore of any kind on my nose or face, neither is my nose at all tender to the touch. I have taken about two dozen bottles of S. S. S., and am soundly cured, and I know that S. S. S. effected the cure after every known remedy was tried and failed.

ROBERT SMEDLEY, Fort Gaines, Ga., May 1, 1885.

I had heard of the wonderful cures of Swift's Specific, and resolved to try it. I commenced using it in April, 1884. My general health was much improved, yet the cancer which was in my breast continued to grow slowly but surely. The cancer grew and became quite heavy. I felt that I must either have it cut out or die. But it commenced discharging quantities of almost black, thick blood. It continued heaving around the edges until February, when it was entirely healed up and well.

Cochesett, Plymouth Co., Mass., July 13, 1885. Swift's Specific is entirely vegetable, and seems to cure cancer by forcing out the impurities from the blood.

PROTESTING PIG STICKERS

RECEIVE AN ORDER FROM THE UN-CROWNED LABOR KING

That Puts Them in a Bad Humor, but Settles the Chicago Stock Yards Strike, for Awhile—An Order to Drop the Strike Obeyed Under Protest—Powerfully Roundly Denounced.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The great strike at the stock yards is ended, and the strikers will return to work as soon as possible. Saturday evening a meeting of the local assembly of Knights of Labor was held at Germania hall and largely attended by the strikers. The following letter from Grand Master Workman Powderly was read:

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.—T. B. BARRY, CHICAGO: In a circular issued March 13, 1886, I stated the policy of the Knights of Labor on the eight-hour question. That circular was read and approved by the general executive board before it went out. It was afterwards approved by the entire order. In opposition to that circular the men at the stock yards struck for eight hours. The order of the Knights of Labor was not brought into the controversy, hence no action was necessary. During the session of the general assembly the men at the stock yards struck again. You were sent to try and settle the strike, but in case of failure the order was not to be involved or asked for assessments. You settled the strike by ordering the men back at the old hours. They have in violation of law and your order and without notifying us again struck for eight hours. The board instructs you and Carlton who will be with you to-day, to settle the strike by putting the men back at the old hours until the order of the Knights of Labor takes definite action on the eight-hour plan. If the men refuse to make their charters, we must have obedience and discipline.

By order of Grand Executive Board, T. V. POWDERLY, Chairman.

After the reading of the above order there were some expressions of dissatisfaction among the strikers, but finally a resolution was adopted by the meeting declaring the strike off.

The report that the strike was declared off caused a panic among the new men, and before the noon hour hundreds had left Packington. To offset this move, however, hundreds arrived for the different houses, many going to Powers.

The militia and deputies will be kept at the yards until prospects of trouble are over. Among the visitors during Sunday was Lieutenant Governor Smith. The lieutenant governor intends urging on the governor the necessity of relieving the troops if the state of affairs at Packington continues. He thinks that a turn at the duty should be taken by the Third and Fourth regiments. Should there be a necessity for maintaining a force at the stock yards any length of time a system of weekly reliefs might be inaugurated. The country regiments could also better spare the time at this season of the year than the city ones.

The Packers' association met Sunday in Armour's office at the stock yards, with James Healey in the chair. It was simply decided to take back but a few men. The foremen of the various houses represented that it would be impossible for them to touch or initiate the new hands in the mystery of juggling severing, and they could not afford to lose that valuable time. The new material was unsatisfactory. It was also decided to pay off all new hands wishing to go.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Only 2,000 of the strikers were taken back to work Monday at the stock yards. This action of the packers is explained in various ways. First, there are about 20,000 hogs in the yards, and only a small force will be needed for a day or two; and then, it is said, the packers do not care to employ a large number of men until they are assured that the men are acting in good faith. One packer said he had learned that the men had planned to strike again on the 24th. Some of the strikers say that the packers are working a bluff game; that they want all the old men back, but have been taking them back slowly in order to make the skilled butchers, who stand aloof, ready and anxious to return through fear of losing their places permanently. Armour & Co. said that they only took back a small number of the old men, as the force at their packing house was nearly full. They said they intended to keep all the new men at work as long as they wished to remain. Many other packers also say the same. But the new men are uneasy, and the probability is that this question will be settled as it was before—the new men leaving at their own desire, as soon as the absence of the military guard leaves the strikers at liberty to adopt their usual tactics.

All the strikers taken back are compelled to sign a paper in which they agree not to leave their work without giving their employers two weeks' notice. On the other hand, the packers agree not to discharge any of their men without giving them two weeks' notice. To still further bind the agreement, each man is required to deposit $50 with his employer, this sum to be gradually taken out of his wages.

The Mayflower for Sale.
BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Gen. Paine, the owner of the ship Mayflower has offered that vessel for sale at cost. The general gives as his reason for wishing to dispose of the ship that he doubtless will not be able to devote the time required for the trial races in event of another contest for the America's cup. He therefore gives an opportunity to any individual or yacht club having the time to run her to make the purchase. The offer will remain open until Dec. 1.

The Confederacy's Daughter.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Miss Winnie Davis, the daughter of Jefferson Davis, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Emory, left on the 10:30 a. m. train Tuesday for Syracuse. There were many callers upon Miss Davis Monday night at the hotel, and whenever she appeared in public decided interest was shown in her.

Appointed by Governor Foraker.
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 11.—Governor Foraker Wednesday appointed Franklin J. Dillman, of Cuyahoga county, to succeed Judge Johnson on the supreme court bench.

THE PRESIDENT'S NEW HOME.

Nearly Ready for Occupancy and To Be Called "Oak View."

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 12.—The president's country home has been called by various names—"Pretty Prospect," "Red-Top," "Analostan," and so on; but none of them have ever been sanctioned by its owner. Thursday, however, the president and Mrs. Cleveland decided to christen it "Oak View."

This name is particularly appropriate, as there is a very handsome grove of oak trees near the house, while no one who has driven by the spot can have failed to observe the magnificent view from it. It is expected that Oak View will be ready for occupancy in ten days or a couple of weeks. The president and Mrs. Cleveland do not intend to reside there this fall, nor do they at present contemplate living there permanently at all. Mrs. Polson will occupy the house as her home, and it will always be available for the president and Mrs. Cleveland to go and come as they choose. It will be an admirable refuge for the president when he wishes privacy for he can shut himself up for any length of time without being intruded upon.

"JIM CUMMINGS" ONCE MORE.

He Writes a Letter That Spills a Detective Theory.

St. LOUIS, Nov. 13.—"Jim Cummings," the alleged robber of Express Messenger Fotheringham, has spilt part of the calculations of the detectives by writing another letter, this time to The Republican, which plainly demonstrates that the theory that Fotheringham is the author of the various letters received and signed "Jim Cummings" is wrong. In this last letter, which is in handwriting identical with all the other letters, he sends a package containing notes and mortgages valued at $10,000—part of the stolen property—which he requests to be delivered to the express company. He reiterates his statement that Fotheringham did his best to protect the property, and is guileless of complicity in the robbery. The letter is dated at Topeka, Kan. The detectives still insist that the letters and the signatures of W. J. Barrett, written on sheets of paper found in Fotheringham's trunk were written by the same person, but who wrote them is the mystery. The detectives now say they have found the mistress of Cummings, and through her the identity of Cummings and "Richard Roe," but decline to make their names public. Cummings' mistress, it is said, describes him exactly as Fotheringham did.

A CAPITAL CITY SCANDAL.

Policemen Instructed to Keep Their Eyes on Congressmen.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 16.—The hearing before District Commissioner Wheatley of the charges preferred against Lieut. Arnold, of the police force, for circulating a "false and malicious" report about Maj. Walker, chief of police, was concluded Monday. Lieut. Arnold was on the stand in his own defense, and swore positively that Maj. Walker, at a meeting of the lieutenants of the police, said he thought "it would be a good idea for the men doing duty south of the avenue [a locality where many respectable houses are located] to note the habits of members of congress."

A similar statement made by the lieutenant to one of his sergeants a month or so ago gave rise to the story that the information obtained was to be used in influencing legislation to increase the police force, and led to the lieutenant's trial. The ultimate object of this espionage, however, according to the gossip here, is to influence congress to vote for the opening of a street and its improvement, through lands held by real estate speculators.

Ohio Official Returns.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 11.—The official vote of the state election, received at the office of the secretary of state, gives Robinson, Republican, 340,805; McBride, Democrat, 323,314; Smith, Prohibitionist, 25,657; Bonsal, Greenback, 1,902. Robinson's plurality for secretary of state was 11,242. The rest of the Republican state ticket has pluralities ranging from 5,000 to 6,000 greater than the head of the ticket. The combined majorities in the congressional districts will exceed the head of the ticket about 10,000. The total vote in the state will be a little over 700,000.

A Henry George Move in Philadelphia.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 12.—The Henry George idea is spreading. There are about 70,000 workmen in this city, who divide their votes between the Republican and Democratic parties. If they should combine their forces they could carry the city. Some of them organized a Henry George club. So far the leaders in the movement have been at work secretly and have been feeling their way. It is now announced that they intend to place a candidate of their own in nomination for mayor. The election will be held in February.

Hokes, the Peoria Bank Thief.
MONTREAL, Nov. 10.—In the proceedings Tuesday for extradition of Hokes, the embezzling Peoria bank bookkeeper, Assistant Cashier Ely, of the bank, testified that Hokes filled in and negotiated bank drafts signed by the cashier. Hokes' lawyer threatens to have the American detectives who arrested the defaulter indicted for conspiracy, on the ground that they worked up the case on speculation and without authority from the bank. This is a crime under Canadian law.

Living Over a Blaze.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 11.—The Standard coal mine, which was sold a few years ago for $800,000 and which keeps 800 men busy and turns out 1,800 tons of coal a day, is ablaze and all efforts to extinguish it are futile. It is feared that there may be a great explosion, and as Mount Pleasant, a mining town, is right over the fire there is a great excitement.

Will Go Into Liquidation.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 12.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the First National bank it was voted to put the institution into liquidation, and notice was telegraphed Secretary Manning that the bank desired to be relieved of its liability as a United States depository.

Lawyer's Plurality.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The canvassing board has disposed of the five disputed precincts in the Second congressional district in such a way that Lawler's plurality over Capt. Gleason is increased from 6 to 16. The total vote of the district was nearly 19,000.

Bank at Ashland, Wisconsin.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 16.—The First National bank of Ashland, Wis., has been authorized to commence business with a capital of $50,000.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

The Belgian chamber opened Tuesday. It was announced that the government would submit a number of measures designed to ameliorate the condition of the working classes. The country is in an excellent financial condition, and sustains pleasant relations with foreign powers.

One-half of the town of Wolcott, Ind., including Peck's hotel and the Christian church, was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning.

The East Shore Lumber company's mill at Muskegon, Mich., was burned Monday night, entailing a loss of $25,000, with insurance of $18,000.

The famous Blenheim "Madonna" is the most costly picture extant. The duke of Marlborough, who owns it, values it at $350,000.

An informality touching the posting and signing of election notices has been discovered at Manchester, N. H., which may result in the election of Raynes, Rep., to congress, the defeat of the Democratic mayor, and the selection of Sawyer, Rep., as governor by a vote of the people.

The output of flour at Minneapolis last week reached 100,000 barrels, the largest of any week this year. The exports aggregated 70,000 barrels.

At Des Moines Wednesday evening, Miss Ida C. Hultin was ordained and installed as pastor of the Unity Unitarian church, the Rev. J. L. Jones, of Chicago, preaching the sermon.

A 15-year-old Kansas girl secured a divorce last week.

A residence at Latrobe, Pa., having been connected with a natural gas main, was blown to pieces at the first lighting.

The European diffusion process of making sugar, which has been tested at Ottawa, Kan., by employees of the national department of agriculture, under the guidance of Professor Wiley, has proved successful in the highest degree.

The adopted daughter of H. M. Hoxie, vice president of the Missouri Pacific road, was married to C. Thorn, of St. Louis, Thursday.

Col. R. G. Ingersoll has agreed to argue the case of the convicted Anarchists of Chicago before the Illinois supreme court. Leonard Swett has also been retained.

The anti-music convention of United Presbyterians, in session at Pittsburgh, adopted Thursday a plan of organization for those opposed to instrumental music in churches. The new organization will be known as the United Presbyterian Association of North America, and adjourned to meet next November at Xenia, Ohio.

Patsy O'Leary, of Cincinnati, has accepted Tommy Warren's challenge for a fight in Chicago for $1,000 to $5,000. O'Leary stipulates that skin-tight gloves be used, and that the battle be fought in private.

Russel Blackstone, aged 17, son of a prominent citizen of Berlin, Wis., hanged himself Thursday morning.

An agreement to convey the L. J. Rose property in southern California to J. H. Fuleston, of England, was filed for record Thursday at Los Angeles. The stipulated price is $1,037,500, payment to be made in shares of a joint stock company, with a capital of $3,000,000.

The New York Evening Post contained a card of Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, stating that she had severed her connection with Literary Life more than a month ago, and that alleged interviews with the publisher of that paper contain so little truth that they deserve Tennyson's stigma of being "the worst of lies."

Dr. Jerome F. Weeks, formerly surgeon of the Fifty-first Illinois infantry, died Friday at St. Charles, Ill., where he has resided since 1853.

The vault in the court house at Lac-qui-parie, Minn., was during Thursday night battered down, and the county records and treasurer's safe removed—presumably Madison, which at the recent election was voted the county seat.

The Western Farmer Publishing company (T. D. & C. M. Plumb) of Madison, Wis., made an assignment Friday. The assets are placed at $11,765, with liabilities at $5,500. Chicago firms are interested.

The national prison congress concluded its session at Atlanta Friday, and adjourned to meet next year at Toronto, Ont.

The acreage of wheat sown in Michigan this fall is not as great as last year, but the condition of the plant Nov. 1 was 102, against 96 a year ago.

The failure of N. P. Perry, furniture dealer at Bloomington, Ill., is announced.

The remains of David Lee Ford, son of David M. Ford, of Chicago, were cremated Friday at the Buffalo, N. Y., crematorium, the body being reduced to ashes in less than an hour.

The police of Shelbyville, Ind., captured a burglar named "Walk" Hammond, who proved to be the last member of the Reno gang of express robbers. He was the leader in the famous Ohio & Mississippi robbery near Seymour, ten years ago.

In the circuit court at Charleston, Ill., on Saturday afternoon, Judge Hughes scored the grand jury for willful violation of his instructions in making no effort to develop proof of bribery at the recent election, as they and he knew that votes were openly paid for on the streets and at the polls.

Julien T. Davies, of New York, receiver of the firm of Grant & Ward, has brought suit against Mayor William R. Grace to recover $150,000 obtained from the firm through fictitious contracts.

M. Bartholdi and wife sailed from New York Saturday for Havre, on account of the sudden illness of his mother.

Political Points.

This was not a brass band campaign, and public speaking was at a discount. Campaigns are more and more being confined to the news paper.

If Cleveland was capable of learning anything, we should say he will not again put an official sneer into the veto of a soldier's pension bill.

The misery of the Indianapolis Sentinel denotes a lack of confidence in a reliable Democratic majority on joint ballot of the two houses of the General Assembly.

There are some Democratic politicians at Indianapolis who have an ambition to imitate Joe Mackin's methods of Chicago. But they lack the shrewdness of that slick citizen and their journey to the State prison is likely to be much shorter than Mackin's was.

The steady going people of Indiana were thoroughly aroused to the importance of resenting the insults offered by a small coterie of Democratic whisky league politicians at Indianapolis. A government for the people and by the people is what Tuesday's verdict meant.

The Democracy attempted to steal a United States Senator in Illinois, and also in Ohio. They are now attempting the same game in Indiana. In Illinois and Ohio the effort failed and the thieves and scoundrels are in the penitentiary. The parallel should not fail in this State.

If the Republicans of Indiana, and particularly of Marion county, submit unresistingly to the outrageous trickery and frauds which deprive the majority of voters of their rights as expressed at the ballot box, it will be a shame and disgrace from which they cannot hope to recover.

It is now pretty well settled that the beautiful new State House will be ready for the legislature this winter. And what is better still, the handsome structure will be dedicated by a Republican assembly which will return the gallant General Harrison to the U. S. Senate for another six years.

The Democracy of Indiana cannot accomplish fraud this year. The scheme to declare the election of Lieutenant Governor illegal will not work. They declare the necessity, but now that it is a point against them they repudiate it. But the schemes of the rascals who manage things at Indianapolis will not work.

Republicans can point with pride to their conduct of the campaign just closed. It was a fair, square presentation of the claims of the Republican party for support. No issue was dodged, no question evaded, and the assault upon the Democratic administration of public affairs was based on undeniable truth.

Now that Indiana is Republican it devolves upon the party to see that the wrongs perpetrated upon the people by the Democracy are redressed. Let the party also learn that injustice will be avenged, and resist temptation to repeat the errors of that party which has just gone out of power by the will of the people.

State Treasurer Cooper should be getting his county orders, time certificates, checks, etc., converted into money as soon as possible; because his Republican successor will want the cash and will be satisfied with nothing less. He will find that settling with a Democratic whitewashing committee and a Republican official are two separate and very different things.

DEMOREST'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE for December is indeed an elegant Christmas number. The fine oil picture, "Sliding," represents a snow scene in the time of the French Directory. It is a work of art worth several times the cost of the Magazine. The beautiful photo-engraving, "The Holy Mother," is exquisitely done, the appeals to every heart at this Christmas-tide. "Across the Continent," by Jennie June, is profusely illustrated, the name of the author being enough to recommend it, as her graphic pen produces nothing but what is good. This is the biggest $2 worth that can be found. The publisher is W. Jennings Demorest, 17 East 14th St., N. Y.

BRACE UP.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up, brace up, but not with stimulants, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at Allen's drug store.

A CONQUERED CITY.

Washington's Air Since the Recent Elections.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Politically, Washington wears the air of a conquered city. Everywhere there is the depression which defeat brings. It is evident that the failure is a matter universally recognized by Democrats of every degree. There is much energetic whistling over results in Massachusetts, Minnesota, and a few other spots not torn and devastated by the late political cyclone; but this effort does not close the shroud political eyes among them to the forerunner of doom in the results announced from Kentucky, Indiana, Virginia and New York City. The solid South dissolving, New York City no longer reliable, Kentucky invaded by common workmen, Indiana repudiating its prophets, a frightful vision of a third party invading the South and neutralizing Democracy in New York, stares in the face the men now in power.

Mr. Cleveland and his friends shout, "The patronage did it." The anti-Cleveland men—and all who have wanted office and have not been satisfied—reply: "The civil service fraud did it, and good enough for you." There is much brave talking on the part of the revenue reformers to show that the free trade idea did not slaughter Hurd and Morrison, and that it was not the basis of the nipping frost which blackened the fair field of Speaker Carlisle. But the private admissions are that the Republican protective doctrines are possessing the field.

Outside of the departments there are few praises for President Cleveland. There are many quiet but bitter arraignments of his policy by those who hold the third rate places under him. The Cabinet and the second in rank are loyal. The party workers are fierce in their private talk. Kentuckians who are known the country over declare that Mr. Cleveland can not carry that State again. Indiana politicians say he must be nominated because the party has no one else, assert at the same time that Indiana will go against him with a whoop. His friends and his critics seem to argue that he has such a hold that it can not be loosened, and that he is to be the inevitable candidate in '88. Those who predict his success are rapidly dwindling in numbers to a squad.

There are a few long-sighted men of the party here. They are as much depressed as any. But their main trouble does not spring from the ordinary dissatisfaction of the spoils men. They reason that in the excitement of a national campaign the apathy of the last one will disappear, and that the party will not suffer from that cause. But it is the hand of labor tracing fateful characters on the wall which troubles these prophets of Democracy. They fear that the recent Southern defections mean a rallying of the white mechanics of the south against their party, and that under their lead enough of the colored vote will be secured and assured to destroy the Democratic solidity of the South. To them the late labor convention at Richmond points unmistakably in that direction. And in New York City they see the same trouble in a little different form, but with the promise of equally disastrous results.

"THE IDEAL MAGAZINE"

For young people is what the papers call ST. NICHOLAS. Do you know about it,—how good it is, how clean and pure and helpful. If there are any boys or girls in your house will you not try a number, or try it for a year, and see if it isn't just the element you need in the household? The London Times has said, "We have nothing like it on this side." Here are some leading features of

Stories by Louisa M. Alcott and Frank R. Stockton—seven by each author. A Short Serial Story by Mrs. Burnett, whose charming "Little Lord Fauntleroy" has been a great feature in the past year of ST. NICHOLAS. War Stories for Boys and Girls, even, Baden, chief of staff, biographer, and confidential friend of General Grant, one of the ablest and most popular of living military writers, will contribute a number of papers describing in clear and vivid style some of the leading battles of the civil war. They will be panoramic descriptions of single combats, of short campaigns, pre-empting a sort of literary picture-gallery of the grand and heroic contests in which the parents of many a boy and girl of to-day took part.

The Serial Stories including "Juan and Juanita," an admirably written story of Mexican life, by Frances Courtenay Baylor, author of "On Both Sides"; also, "Henry's Boarding House," by James Oles, a story of life in a great city. Short Articles, instructive and entertaining, will abound. Among these are: "How a Great Panorama is Made," by Theodore R. Davis, with profuse illustrations; "Winning a Commission" (Naval Academy); and "Recollections of the Naval Academy," by "Anon." Among the "On the Gas-works," with a number of striking pictures; "Child-Sketches from George Eliot," by Julia Magruder; Victor Hugo's Tales to his Grandchildren, recounted by Jeanne Little; "Historic Girls," by E. S. Brooks. Also interesting contributions from Nora Perry, Harriet Prescott Spenser, Joaquin Miller, H. H. Boyesen, Washington Gladstone, Alice Wellington Rollins, J. L. Trumbull, Lieutenant Frederick Schwatka, Noah Brooks, Grace Demio (Richfield), Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, Mrs. S. J. B. Platt, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. The subscription price of ST. NICHOLAS is $3.00 a year, 25 cents a number. Subscriptions are received by bookstores and newsdealers everywhere, or by the publishers. New volume begins with the November number. Send for our beautifully illustrated catalogue (free) containing full prospectus, etc.
